Urbis is an exceptional learning environment. It inspires, excites and informs people of all ages, interests and abilities through a stimulating blend of audio-visual, graphic and interactive exhibits which explore life in different cities across the world. Our Education Programme, launching in September 2002 will offer a range of fun and engaging resources for schools across the widest range of subjects.

We are holding an open day at Urbis to recruit full-time, part-time and freelance people to join our Education Team in creating and delivering our programme of activities.
