

TOURISM in Marine Environments

AN INTERDISCIPLINARY JOURNAL

Volume 1, Number 1

Pages 1–70

ISSN 1544-273X

CONTENTS

| | |
|---|----|
| Editorial Michael Lück | 1 |
| REFEREED ARTICLES | |
| Estimating the Economic Contribution of a Cruise Ship Visit Larry Dwyer, Ngaire Douglas, and Zelko Livaic | 5 |
| Why Dolphins May Get Ulcers: Considering the Impacts of Cetacean-Based Tourism in New Zealand Mark Orams | 17 |
| Marine Tourism Impacts on the Great Barrier Reef Vicki J. Harriott | 29 |
| No Detectable Improvement in Compliance to Regulations by “Swim-With-Dolphin” Operators in Port Phillip Bay, Victoria, Australia Carol Scarpaci, Dayanthi Nugegoda, and Peter J. Corkeron | 41 |
| Sustainable Management of Marine Fishing Tourism. Some Lessons From Norway Trude Broch | 49 |
| COMMENTARIES AND RESEARCH NOTES Marc L. Miller | 59 |
| COMMENTARY | |
| Tourists Still Getting the Bends Jeffery Wilks, Michael Coory, and Donna Pendergast | 61 |
| CONFERENCE REVIEWS | |
| International Lake Tourism Conference Tuija Härkönen and C. Michael Hall | 63 |
| Marine Mammal Viewing Workshop Jill Lewandowski | 64 |

(continued on inside back cover)

(continued from outside back cover)

BOOK REVIEWS

Cruise Ship Blues: The Underside of the Cruise Industry (Ross A. Klein) 67
Ross Dowling

Marine Ecotourism: Issues and Experiences (Brian Garrod and Julie C. Wilson, editors) 69
Marianna Sigala