

Promoting well-being in people with intellectual disability

Tuesday 5th July 2005

Baker Building, UCE Perry Barr
9.30 am – 4.30 pm

Reproduced with kind permission from the Lowe Syndrome Association

The contribution of psychotherapy to the well-being of people with intellectual disability

Dr Roger Banks

Consultant in Psychiatry of Learning
Disability, Conwy & Denbighshire NHS Trust
Director of the Institute of Psychotherapy and Disability

Can genetics contribute to the well-being of people with intellectual disability?

Professor Tony Holland

Chair in Learning Disabilities Developmental Psychiatry Section
University of Cambridge

£75 registration fee (before 5th May 2005, £95 after) £55 for voluntary organisations

Lunch and refreshments included.

For more information and a booking form, please contact Trace Erving on 0121 627 8981 or email trace.erving@southbirminghampct.nhs.uk

THE UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

IDRC
BIRMINGHAM

Intellectual Disability Research Consortium - Birmingham

South Birmingham NHS
Primary Care Trust