RENAISSANCE SOUTH EAST museums for changing lives

Senior Education Officer

■ St. Barbe Museum, Lymington ■ Up to £26,157 ■ Ref: 11806

We are looking for an experienced person to build on the excellent learning and access services provided at St. Barbe Museum. You will be responsible for leading and developing school sessions, programming a series of events for a range of learners, and supporting the Red House Museum, Christchurch and a small network of community museums in developing their own lifelong learning provision.

With a first degree in a National Curriculum related subject (a postgraduate museum qualification is preferred), you will have solid experience of working within a museum environment, and of working with schools to provide sessions tailored to the National Curriculum. Experience of working with a dynamic temporary exhibitions programme would be useful.

You should have excellent communication and interpersonal skills. Good IT skills and practical experience of working with collections would be an advantage.

This post is funded through a partnership between Renaissance South East, Lymington Museum Trust and New Forest District Council. Renaissance South East is a part of the national groundbreaking programme to transform regional museums.

For an informal discussion, please contact Steve Marshall, Curator at St. Barbe Museum, on 01590 676969.

Closing date: 16 March 2007. Interview date: week commencing 26 March 2007.
