

Informal Learning Officer – Fixed Term

£20,000 – £28,000 + benefits • Ref: G/ILO

In this high-potential role, you will be responsible for developing and delivering a range of vibrant collection based programmes to meet an increasing demand for family learning and to engage young people in the sea, ships, time and the stars. This is an opportunity to work with an established and successful public programme to build greater capacity for a diverse range of informal learners. Educated to degree level or equivalent, you should bring demonstrable experience of developing learning programmes, ideally in a museum or gallery environment.

Education Officer – Part Time, Fixed Term

£20,000 – £28,000 + benefits • Ref: G/EO

This role will see you develop and deliver programmes and resources for all ages, as a member of the innovative, creative Formal Learning Team. A qualified teacher, you should have proven teaching experience, preferably in a museum or gallery; experience at secondary level is highly desirable. Primarily a formal learning role, there will be opportunities to develop broader programmes.

This is an excellent opportunity to work within the context of exciting new learning developments for art, science, history and citizenship in this unique environment.
