About the tutors...

Paul Baker

is the founder member of the Tudor Music group Diabolus in Musica who have performed around the country at a number of historical venues and events. Paul is also a fine instrument maker again specialising in instruments of the medieval and Tudor periods but he can also turn his hand to website design, creating interactive exhibits for museums and all manner of things. See his website for further details at: www.diabolus.org.uk

Mark Cooper

is an experienced bowmaker and fletcher of many years standing. He organises his own bowmaking courses and provides training and talks around the theme of historic archery and also takes part at many events at historic properties throughout the year. For details contact 01902 337622 Tel/Fax. Email: mcooper@mcooper.eclipse.co.uk

Jenny Pearce

has been a basket maker for over 10 years having learnt her trade from expert basket makers in Ireland, England and France. Jenny likes to borrow for traditional Celtic and English Regional styles to develop more contemporary designs. Jenny teaches her own workshops from Autumn to Spring and exhibits with the Worcestershire Guild of Designer Craftsmen. She is a member of the Basket Makers Association. For further details contact Jenny via email at: info@jennypearce.co.uk or visit her website www.jennypearce.co.uk.
