This journal is concerned with all aspects of diversity in health and social care. Diversity is seen as a very broad concept, embracing, for example, culture, belief, disability, gender, race and ethnicity, as well as underserved and marginalised populations. Diversity also extends to the wide variety of settings in which care takes place and the multidisciplinary nature of professional practice.

The journal is indexed in Social Care Online, British Nursing Index, Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory, Health and Social Care Abstracts, CINAHL, CSA Sociological Abstracts, CSA Social Services Abstracts and DH-Data.

Subscriptions include:

- Four printed issues
