ESRC 1+3 Studentships & Departmental and University Scholarships

- Applications are invited for three quota ESRC '1+3' studentships in sociology and social policy to start in September 2008.
- These awards cover the costs of UK students undertaking the MA in Methods of Social Research followed by a three-year PhD.
- The awards cover tuition fees, maintenance (currently £12,300 a year) and a training support grant. EU students who have been resident in the UK for three years prior to starting are also eligible.
- In addition there will be up to 6 Departmental and University scholarships.
- The School is one of the leading research centres in social policy and sociology in Britain, and is one of the two departments in the UK to have an RAE 6* in social policy.
- The School has 50 lecturing staff and over 30 research staff and offers supervision capacity in a very wide range of fields. PhD programmes are available in Sociology, Criminology, Environmental Social Science, Social Policy, Social Work, and Urban Studies.

Applicants should normally have (or be expecting) a Class I or good Class II(i) honours degree or equivalent in a relevant discipline. The deadline for applications for all studentships is Thursday 20 March 2008.
