

UK Health & Safety Science & Research Conference 2009

Open Call for papers – Deadline 20th July 2008

Conference Details:

Central London
10th June 2009

The Conference

The UK Health & Safety Science & Research Conference is designed to present and analyse the latest thinking, research and practice in Health & Safety. The Conference is attended by health and safety directors/managers/officers in both corporate and public sectors, along with researchers, academics and specialists in the field. It is an excellent opportunity to keep abreast of the real cutting edge developments within the health & safety field.

The Programme

This is an open call for papers available to both practitioners and researchers in the broad health and safety fields. Subject areas are particularly invited that will have a broad appeal to health and safety professionals, although there will be room for specialist areas within the conference. The aim is to have a good balance of research and practitioner led input.

Papers are invited from

- Health and safety practitioners
- Specialist consultants in the field
- Relevant academics
- Researchers in the field

Call for Papers

To respond to this call please supply the following information(one side of A4 max);

Subject Title

Speaker Details - with brief information on yourself

Content - A brief paragraph of explanation

Email to research@ebis-hse.com

Deadline is 20th July 2008

Reservations

If you wish to reserve a place at the conference please email bookings@ebis-hse.com to register your interest.

