

Promoting racial justice, human rights and equality

Racial Justice & Human Rights:

WHOSE TERROR IS IT ANYWAY?

A Major Regional Conference Organised by JUST West Yorkshire

The UK Government's legislative and public policy responses have given the police and other security services unprecedented powers, rolled back hard-won civil liberties and fundamentally changed the relationship between the Citizen and the State.

DATE: TUESDAY, 21 OCTOBER 2008

TIME: 9.00-4.30 P.M.

In this major regional conference in the North organised by JUST West Yorkshire, leading human rights experts and activists explore the impact of the 2001 Northern riots, the 7th July London bombings and the Government's 'war on terror' on the region's visible minorities, particularly Asians and people of African descent.

VENUE: PICTUREVILLE NATIONAL MEDIA MUSEUM BRADFORD BD1 1NQ

Speakers

Moazzam Begg

Ex-Guantanamo detainee & spokesperson Cageprisoners

Arun Kundnani

Institute of Race Relations, author The End of Tolerance.

Pragna Patel

Activist & Chair Southall Black Sisters

Imran Khan

Human Rights Solicitor, Imran Khan & Partners

Lemn Sissay

Performance Poet & artist-in-residence South Bank Centre

Rob Vincent

Chief Executive Kirklees Council, ACPO Prevent Board & regional Cohesion lead

Hanif Malik

Director, Hamara Centre & community leader

John Sampson

Asst Chief Constable & West Yorkshire Counter-terrorism lead