

Making art work Supporting students in the creative industries

Monday 8th December 2008, Christies Education, London

The creative industries are becoming an increasingly important part of the UK economy and alongside developing their creativity, arts practitioners are required to develop skills like marketing and business to enable them to compete.

This course aims to provide art librarians with an insight into how best to support enquiries about the new skills required by students in the creative industries.

Speakers include professionals from a range of organisations which provide the support and skills development needed to establish creative enterprises.

Programme:

10.00 – 10.30 am	Registration and coffee
10.30 - 11.15 am	Goretti Considine, City Business Library - Commercial Art
11.15 – 12.00 pm	Rachel Power, London School of Economics - Careers in the Creative Industries
12.00 – 12.45 pm	Douglas Laird, Birmingham, Business Insights
12.45 – 1.45 pm	Lunch
1.45 – 2. 30 pm	Clare Qualmann, London Metropolitan University Product Library - Material Thinking
2.30 – 3.15 pm	Steve Wright, Artists Newsletter
3.15 – 3.30 pm	Tea break
3.30 – 4.15 pm	Neil Infield, British Library
4.15 pm	Mulled wine and mince pies
Fees - ARLIS members £85 Non- ARLIS delegates £105 Retired member rate £63.75 ARLIS Student/unwaged members £42.50 Non-ARLIS Students £65
For further information - contact Judith Preece j.a.preece@uel.ac.uk or Mandy Cumbridge Mandy.Cumbridge.1@city.ac.uk
	, ,
To book - please complete ARLIS/UK & Ireland, The N London SW7 2RL. Email: at All bookings will be acknow	, ,

Please advise if you have any special dietary requirements.

Please tick box if you require vegetarian lunch