

Supporting the Creative and Media Diploma

An event for museum, archive and library staff

- 25 March 2009, National Media Museum, Bradford
- For educators, managers and anyone interested in supporting the new Diploma qualification

FREE event

Objectives

- To provide up to date information about the new Diploma qualifications from a range of perspectives: employers, exam boards, teachers and pupils.
- To make delegates aware of the different ways they can support Diploma students and the benefits to their organisation
- To provide a range of case studies to inspire museums, archives and libraries to support delivery of the Diploma
- To enable delegates to network and share ideas.

To book

Please send your completed booking form to Alison Glew, aj.glew@ntlworld.com

For more information contact emma-king@ntlworld.com or tel: 07950 340048.

Programme

- 10.00 Arrival, refreshments and registration
- 10.30 Welcome and introduction
Emma King, Workforce Development Officer Yorkshire
- 10.40 The Creative & Media Diploma: an overview
Julia Auty, Principal Moderator, AQA
- 11.10 The employer perspective: how can we get involved, and what's in it for us?
Sarah Mumford, Head of Education at the National Media Museum and Employer Champion for the Diploma
- 11.40 Refreshments
- 12.00 Partnerships in practice: the teacher's perspective
Janet Pearson, teacher, and Mike Benson, Ryedale Folk Museum
- 12.30 Practical Workshop
- 1.00 Lunch
Network with colleagues and enjoy the exhibitions at the National Media Museum
- 14.00 Case study: The Diploma in Action at Ryedale Folk Museum
Meet students from Lady Lumley's, Malton and Ryedale schools and hear about their experiences as some of the first to study for the Diploma.
- 14.40 Case study: Working with Creative Practitioners
Find out how the Mercer Art Gallery and Ryburn Valley High School have worked together to complete one of the Diploma units
Diane Taylor, Harrogate Museums & Arts
- 15.05 Case study: Working in partnership to support Teacher CPD
Simon Skelling, Kirklees Museums & Galleries
- 15.30 Refreshments and plenary
- 16.00 Depart