

Learning by Doing: Intercultural Communicative Competence and Global Citizenship from Young Age

Friday 13 March 9.30am–3.30pm

Bringing together organisations and charities working with young people, sharing good practice among these organisations and debating on the key issues associated with experiential learning.

- Admission free, booking essential
- 43 Gordon Square, London, WC1H 0PD

www.bbk.ac.uk/llc/subjects/applied_linguistics/act/esrc

Event Details

The event, organised by Birkbeck's Department of Applied Linguistics and Communication, as part of the ESRC Festival of Social Sciences, aims to promote experiential learning as an effective method of developing intercultural communicative competence and global citizenship among young people.

It will bring together organisations and charities working with young people, share good practice among these organisations and debate on the key issues associated with EL.

Event Highlights

Keynote speech: Experiential learning as an effective method of developing Intercultural Communicative Competence and Global Citizenship,

Professor Claudio Baraldi, University of Modena and Reggio Emilia, Italy

Presentations by the following charities and organisations:

- CISV
- Raleigh International
- British Council
- TCO International Diversity Management.

Further information

www.bbk.ac.uk/llc/subjects/applied_linguistics/act/esrc

The event is free to attend, but due to limited places, booking is essential. Please visit the website to register or alternatively email: zhu.hua@bbk.ac.uk

