

Making Sense of Equality and Diversity at the Local Level: Engaging and Shaping Communities

Tuesday 30th June to Thursday 2nd July 2009 (or on a day-only attendance)

An opportunity for anyone interested in equality and diversity policy and practice to engage and debate the challenging issues – the conference will interest professionals and managers across public services and the voluntary sector

Speakers include:

Peter Tatchell, Human Rights Campaigner
Gary Younge, Guardian Correspondent
Catherine May, Equality and Human Rights Commission
Christine Burns, Plain Sense
Yasmin Alibhai-Brown, Author, Journalist & Political Commentator
Stuart Speeden, Centre for Local Policy Studies
Karen Chouhan, Equanomics UK
Aileen McColgan, Matrix Chambers

Three days of speakers, workshops and discussion dealing with equality and diversity, engagement, community cohesion, multiculturalism, social class and identity and the role of public services and the third sector.

“ ‘The CLPS summer School (2008) gave me a real chance to discuss and explore the issues that matter in delivering equality and diversity. A real chance to develop ideas and practice’

Book Now for the Annual Centre for Local Policy Studies Summer School

Venue: Crewe Hall in Cheshire easy access by train and close to the M6

Further details and booking information from blogs.edgehill.ac.uk/clps or www.clps.org.uk or clpsorg@edgehill.ac.uk or 01695 584765

Price £350 for the whole event
(contact us for day rates and concessions)