

Lincolnshire Tourism enjoys a reputation as one of the UK's leading regional place marketing agencies. Established in 1990 to shape and promote all aspects of the visitor economy our company is proud to work with an industry worth over £1 billion a year, supporting 1,500 businesses.

Each year Lincolnshire attracts 4 million staying visitors and 18 million day visitors, creating employment for over 20,000 people.

We are currently recruiting for the following to support the Lincolnshire Integrated Aviation Heritage Partnership, a unique joint working initiative. The project will focus on the heritage of the aviation product in Lincolnshire enabling more people to learn about, have access to, and appreciate their aviation heritage across the county. The visitor experience will be improved through a series of initiatives that will link aviation sites.

Aviation Development Officer

£28,600 + Pension (Three Year Fixed Term Contract)

The principal role of the Aviation Development Officer will be to develop awareness of Lincolnshire's aviation offer nationally and locally. The Officer will work with each of the key aviation sites on site specific business development plans, a key aspect of which will be a joint marketing and promotions strategy. This post would ideally suit someone with experience in project and/or business management.

Learning and Outreach Officer

£28,600 + Pension (Three Year Fixed Term Contract)

The principal role of the Learning and Outreach Officer will be to develop and coordinate learning and outreach programmes across the ten key sites covering training, access, education and oral history through mentoring, coaching and leadership. This post would ideally suit someone with skills development and/or interpretative experience.

These two positions will work closely together in the delivery of the programme.
