

Sponsored by

Special Group in Coaching Psychology

15th & 16th December 2009: Royal Holloway, University of London

Changing Perspectives

Exploring Hope and Wisdom, Transition, Engagement and Performance, Health and Well-being

In a climate of change and uncertainty, one thing that can be assured is that we consistently offer an excellent, engaging and professional event that brings together a diverse community of coaching psychologists and coaches to network, develop their practice and deepen their knowledge base.

Registration

Take advantage of our Early Bird offers by registering on or before

Monday 12th October

Note: The 2 day early bird member rate remains at the 2007 price of £235.00 + VAT

Established and emerging speakers from across Europe will be contributing in the form of masterclasses, keynote and invited papers, skills-based sessions and discussions. Speakers include:

Michel Moral

Remco Polman

Dusan Stojnov

Hugh O'Donovan

Tatiana Bachkirova

Ilona Boniwell

Vicky Ellam-Dyson

Max Blumberg

Siegfried Greif

Sophia Jowett

Reinhard Stelter

And more.....

Feedback from our conference in 2008:

"Excellent conference"

"Keynotes very good"

"Another fantastic learning experience and opportunity to reflect on practice"

"Very smooth, very well organised, energy and enthusiasm came across, very friendly"

For booking details go to:

http://www.sgcp.org.uk/conference/conference_home.cfm

For information about sponsoring and exhibiting, email sgcpcon@bps.org.uk

For members of the BPS, the 2009 membership fee to join SGCP is £8.50 (the cost to join the BPS as an affiliate member is £24)

SGCP membership benefits include membership rates at our events and conferences and free copies of the 'International Coaching Psychology Review' and 'The Coaching Psychologist'.

Highlighting the Psychology in Coaching