

Event Types Thesaurus

Setting the standards for recording the past

<http://thesaurus.english-heritage.org.uk/>

The Data Standards Unit has developed a new thesaurus bringing together terms commonly used within the heritage sector allowing users to identify and apply standardized indexing to intrusive and non intrusive investigations, or events, whether archaeological, architectural, terrestrial or maritime.

What does it cover?

The thesaurus covers terms relating to:

- Aerial investigations
- Architectural investigations
- Landscape and townscape investigations
- Maritime archaeological investigations
- Terrestrial archaeological investigations

What can it do for your data?

The thesaurus will:

- Allow the quick and easy retrieval of information
- Allow the ability to easily share information with others
- Ensure the consistency of the terminology held within your data set

How can I find out more?

Contact: paul.adams@english-heritage.org.uk

Visit: <http://thesaurus.english-heritage.org.uk/>

From left to right - photo 1 © English Heritage Photo Library - photos 2, 3 and 4 © English Heritage.NMR