

With over 80 international guests and speakers, the Heavy Vehicle Transport Technology Symposium has the leading thinkers, designers and policy people from around the world debating the key issue in heavy vehicle transport. Scheduled for 14th to 17th March 2010 at the historic State Library of Victoria, this event will shape future policies and deliver great networking opportunities.

Supported by 16 of Australia's government bodies, research institutions and commercial organisations, it is an essential event for those who are involved in the use, design, operation, regulation or certification of heavy vehicles.
