

Engaging 14 -19s Through the Formal Education Sector

- An expert overview of the 14-19 curriculum
- Case studies demonstrating innovative thinking & partnership working
- Opportunities for delegate to share knowledge & acquire new ideas

An opportunity to explore different models of how museums and archives can engage with 14-19s through the formal education sector. Regional case studies will be used to show how museums and archives are drawing on their collections in innovative ways to support delivery of the new Diplomas and encourage independent learning amongst GCSE and A level students.

Wednesday 21st April 2010
