

Additional features include

- An associated trade exhibition
- Inspiring talks
- Workshops, relating to the sessions of the day, enabling exchanges between scientists, policy makers and managers
- Presentation of short reports on the workshop outcomes
- Conference proceedings

Who is it aimed at

We want to inspire water and river basin managers, researchers, local and national government decision-makers currently engaged in the 1st River Basin Management Plan and anticipating challenges of the 2nd round of RBMPs.

Posters

Poster contributions are encouraged in policy, research, and science-policy interfacing categories. Refereed, full poster papers may be published in the Journal of Environmental Monitoring (RSC Publishing), and guidelines on poster submissions are available on the website.

Exhibition

There will be an associated trade exhibition, and exhibition fees include one delegate place.

Objective

Most of the first WFD River Basin Management Plans (RBMP) have now been submitted to the EC in Brussels, and are at an early stage of implementation, but it is clear that we need different approaches for the 2nd round of RBMP, to be published in 2015. The conference aims to motivate those engaged in implementing the current plans and preparing the future plans. This is achieved by discussing and answering two key-questions:

- What new scientific findings and experiences can facilitate RBMP implementation & revision?
- How to integrate in a seamless way selected suggestions in this process

The conference participants will make this selection through a transparent, participatory approach to be explained at the conference.

Monday, 26th April: towards RBMP implementation & revision

12:00 Registration, refreshments

Introduction and Policy

- 14:00 Welcome
Chairmen of the Organising and Scientific Committees
- 14:05 Opening Speech - Are we able to adapt water resource management practices in a fast moving world?
Bob Harris, University of Sheffield, Catchment Science Centre, UK
- 14:20 Welcome Address: Integrated RBM under the WFD: action programmes and adaptation to climate change – the Spanish case
Marta Moren Abat, Spanish Water Director, Spain
- 14:35 Introductory Lecture
Philippe Amouyel, Institut Pasteur Lille, France
- 14:45 The international dimension of Integrated Water Resources Management
Shahbaz Khan, UNESCO

Scene Setting

- 15:00 Climate change adaptation in river basin management planning in the European Union – policy recommendations and research trends
Balázs Horvath, EC DG Environment
Philippe Quevauviller, EC DG Research
- 15:20 Implementation of the WFD surveillance programme – first assessment of chemical and ecological status for rivers, problems and perspectives
Jean Prygiel, Artois-Picardie Water Agency, France
- 15:50 Refreshments
- 16:15 'ClimateWater' so far: impacts of climate change on water and adaptation strategies identified
Géza Jolankai, Hungary, ClimateWater consortium
- 16:45 Water threats at river basin scale
Igor Liska, Austria, ICPDR (International Commission for the Protection of the Danube River)
- 17:15 Introduction to poster and exhibition session
Coralie Noël, France, INBO (International Network of Basin Organizations)
- 17:20 Poster session, opening of the exhibition and refreshments
- 19:45 Conference Dinner Welcome

Tuesday, 27th April:
WHAT new scientific findings and experiences can facilitate RBMP implementation and revision?

Integrating a more Systemic Approach

- 09:00 Water bodies in Europe – integrative systems to assess ecological status and recovery
Daniel Hering, Germany, WISER consortium
- 09:25 Groundwater and dependent ecosystems – new scientific basis on climate change and land-use impacts
Bjørn Kløve, Finland, GENESIS consortium
- 09:50 Sediment - an essential, integral and dynamic part of any river system - in European River Basin Management Plans
Axel Netzband, Germany, SedNet network
- 10:15 Refreshments

Integrating Climate Change Hazards

- 10:45 Assessment of climatic change and impacts on the quantity and quality of water
Martin Beniston, Switzerland, ACQWA consortium
- 11:05 Improving on flooding preparedness: ongoing research on flash floods forecasting systems
David Velasco, Spain, IMPRINTS consortium
- 11:25 Evaluation of the global water cycle's response to current and future drivers of climate change
Tanya Warnaars, UK, WATCH consortium
- 11:45 Role of soils in integrated river basin management under climate change
Winfried E H Blum, Austria, RISKBASE advisory panel
- 12:05 Exhibition, posters, and refreshments
- 13:00 Lunch

Securing Water Resources against Deliberate or Natural Disorders

- 14:15 Security, monitoring and decontamination of drinking water distribution systems
Jean-Claude Block, France, SeCurEAU consortium
- 14:40 Climate change impacts on water and security: orientations of the research foreseen over 2010-2013
Roberto Roson, Italy, WASSERMed/CLIMB/CLICO cluster
- 15:00 Impact of toxic pollution on aquatic ecosystems: research trends and perspectives
Werner Brack, Germany, MODELKEY consortium
- 15:20 Refreshments
- 16:00 Parallel workshops on the three sessions of the day
Workshop 1 on integration of a more systemic approach
Chair: Jos Brils, Deltares, The Netherlands
Workshop 2 on integrating climate change hazards
Chair: Thierry Davy, Representative of French Rivers Agencies in Brussels, France
Workshop 3 on securing water resources against deliberate or natural disorders
Chair: Mario Carere, Istituto Superiore di Sanità, Italy
- 17:30 Poster Session – Platform of EU-projects, & refreshments
- A free evening in Lille

Wednesday, 28th April:
HOW to integrate selected suggestions into the RBMP implementation and revision process

Stakeholders' Views and Science-Policy Interfacing

- 09:00 Views of the water industry services on science-policy interfacing
Daniel Villessot, France, EUREAU
- 09:25 Laboratory networking needs (NORMAN)
Valeria Dulio, France, NORMAN association
- 09:50 Linking science to policy in support of IWRM – the CIS-SPI initiative
Marie-Perrine Durot, ONEMA, France
- 10:15 Reports on the workshop 1, 2 and 3 outcomes – answer to the key-question: what new scientific findings and experiences can facilitate RBMP implementation and revision? Thereafter an explanation will follow on the approach by which conference participants may select suggestions.
Reports: Chair-persons. Moderator: Adriaan Slob
- 10:45 Refreshments
- 11:15 Practical experiences and perspectives in science-policy interfacing
Michiel Blind, Deltares, The Netherlands
- 11:45 Technological challenges for the water industry
Mike Farrimond, WssTP
- 12:00 Lunch
- 13:30 Workshop 4 on stakeholders' views on how to integrate, in a seamless way, selected suggestions from workshop 1, 2 and 3 into the RBMP implementation and revision process
Chair: Natacha Amorsi, IWRM-Net, and OIEau, France
- 14:45 Reflection on the workshop 4 outcome, and view of the International Network of Basin Organizations (INBO)
Jean-François Donzier, INBO
- 15:00 Closing Remarks
Co-chairmen of the Organising and Scientific Committees
- 15:30 Close of conference

Registration Fees

Members of the RSC, SCI and IWO	€270
Non-members	€320
Student (post graduate) – limited places	€120
Exhibition stand and one delegate	€1,500
Conference dinner (26 th April) – optional	€49
Conference proceedings	€40
