

Psychologists in the Pub: Dean Burnett

Nervous laughter: Promoting Neuroscience and Psychology through comedy

18 November: 19:00 - 21:00

The Great room, The Chequers

High Street, Oxford

Dean Burnett is a recently qualified Doctor of Neuroscience. He is also a stand-up comedian. For the best part of a decade now, he has been using his comedic skills to promote his field of expertise to the general public, which has resulted in run ins and unfortunate incidents with the media, irate activists, Doctor Who fans, drunken hecklers and even Paramount Studios, Hollywood.

Join Dean as he discusses what he has learned and what his experience can offer after many years practicing a novel and rather extreme form of scientific engagement
