

WELL-BEING 2011 – Abstract Submission Guidelines

Content

Papers may be exploratory in nature or consider the findings of existing studies drawn from academia or practice. They need to address issues relating to well-being; we are particularly interested to consider new and innovative work irrespective of its origins. Authors should identify:

- The theme that their paper falls under (see Call for Papers)
- Context of the research/practice
- Methodology/methodologies
- Outcomes

Formatting

Abstracts for papers should be a maximum of 300 words in length. Abstracts for posters* should be a maximum of 150 words in length. Font style should be Arial, point size 12 throughout. Line spacing should be set at 1.5 and margins at the 'Normal' setting of 1inch on each side. Documents should be produced in Word (2007-compatible). References, if any, should be used sparingly and in the standard Harvard system e.g. (Smith 2005:27) with full reference at the end of the text.

* The final poster format size is A1.

Layout order

To ensure consistency amongst submissions, please lay out your abstract in the following order:

- Whether a paper or poster abstract e.g. 'Paper abstract' or 'Poster abstract'
- Title of paper
- Author name(s) and institution(s)
- Abstract – a brief outline of the paper including theme under which the paper falls (see Call for Papers), the context of the research, methodology and outcomes.
- Contact email address(es) and at least one postal address
