

Dear colleagues,

With this first circular, we would like to announce the upcoming 14th EMPG Meeting (Experimental Mineralogy, Petrology, and Geochemistry) which will be held in Kiel, Germany, from 4th to 7th of March 2012.

The EMPG meeting intends to bring together researchers from all fields of experimental geosciences. Researchers with a focus on material science and numerical modelling are very welcome as well.

The organising committee of the 14th EMPG kindly invites you to submit sessions of your own special interest.

A provisional list of topics is posted on the conference website: www.EMPG2012.uni-kiel.de/progam

Please submit your proposal for symposia or sessions before 30. June 2011 to: empg2012@min.uni-kiel.de

The preliminary time table for the conference is as follows:

April 2011	call for sessions / first circular
30. June 2011	call for sessions closes
July 2011	list of sessions finalized
