

A Scholar's life for me?

Age debate: The changing landscape of work in higher education

Monday 12 September, 6-7.30pm
J Z Young Lecture Theatre, Anatomy, Gower Street

Life expectancy is increasing, the default retirement age has been lifted and thanks to new technology and globalisation, even the physical boundaries of the workplace are shifting. Are these changes for the better, or might academic life be getting harder?

You are invited to this exciting debate which will feature among others:

- Professor Malcolm Grant, UCL Provost
- Ed Howker, Spectator Journalist and author, 'Jilted Generation: how Britain has bankrupted its youth'
- Dr. Gill Samuels, Chair of the Global Forum for Health Research and UCL's Age Equality Champion

To register please visit: <http://agedebate.eventbrite.com/>