

My Best Fiend

On the Productivity of Intellectual Enmities

Fiends are productive. They spark interest, they draw our energy, we care about them and they care about us. Why do we choose this fiend and not another? How does our own thinking depend on our fiends? What are the rules and methods of our own fiendish engagements and what are the scientific fruits of them?

1ST NOVEMBER: LIZ MOOR (GOLDSMITHS)

REFLECTIONS ON THE GENESIS OF INTELLECTUAL FIENDS

8th November: HARRY COLLINS (Cardiff)

GOOD AND BAD ARGUMENTS

WITH FRIENDS, IDIOTS AND PEOPLE WITHOUT INTEGRITY

6TH DECEMBER: DAVID OSWELL (GOLDSMITHS)

DANCES WITH WOLVES: LATOUR, MACHIAVELLI AND US

13TH DECEMBER: STEVE FULLER (WARWICK)

BRUNO LATOUR: AND SOME NOTES ON SOME ALSO RANS.

ALL LECTURES TUESDAYS, 4.30-6PM, RHB 137