

The ASA Network of Applied Anthropologists

November Discussion Event

“How can applied anthropologists support students?”

Discussion led by Dr Kathryn Tomlinson (Apply)

Thursday 24th November 2011, 6 pm - 8 pm

One of Apply's aims is to help students explore their options for employment outside academia, and help them to work out how to apply their skills in the workplace. Apply has run workshops in universities in the past. On 24th November we'd like to discuss innovative and creative ideas about how applied anthropologists could support students. There will also be time to discuss other topics relevant to Apply.

Venue: The Royal Anthropological Institute, 50 Fitzroy Street,
London, W1T 5BT

So that we can plan for numbers, please email Rachael Gooberman-Hill if you are coming or if you'd like more information:

R.Gooberman-Hill@bristol.ac.uk

All are welcome

Visit our website:
www.theasa.org/networks/apply