

→ Then and Now: The changing context of debate?

Wednesday 9 November, 6:30pm

£5 (£3 concessions)

Rivington Place, EC2A 3BA

Discussing key debates around identity politics as seen through Iniva's Archives

Roshini Kempadoo, photographer, media artist and lecturer at the University of East London (UEL), will be in conversation with Karen Alexander, independent film curator, writer and freelance consultant; Nina Mangalanayagam, an artist currently showing work at the Entanglement: the Ambivalence of Identity exhibition at Rivington Place, and Ashwani Sharma, principal lecturer in media and cultural studies at UEL.

Find out more: www.iniva.org/events

Book your place at events online: www.iniva.org

Contact us by email

bookings@rivingtonplace.org or phone 020 7749 1240 with any enquiries.

The Entanglement exhibition is showing at Rivington Place until 19 November with artists Simon Fujiwara, Anthony Key, Dave Lewis, Nina Mangalanayagam and Navin Rawanchaikul.

Rivington Place opening hours:

Tuesday-Friday 11am-6pm

Late opening every Thursday until 9pm

Saturday 12 - 6pm

Closed on Sundays, Mondays and Bank Holidays

Iniva

Rivington Place

London, EC2A 3BA

Nearest tubes: Old St/

Liverpool St / Shoreditch

High St

www.iniva.org

Become a fan of Iniva on Facebook

Follow Iniva on Twitter

Watch videos on our

YouTube channel