

Call for Papers

EASSS 2012 Student Session

European Agent Systems Summer School:

EASSS 2012 aims to offer a valuable forum for knowledge exchange between various research groups in Agents field, for the benefit of students and researchers at both beginner and advanced level.

EASSS attracts about 100 students each year. The school provides a wide range of state-of-the-art courses given by the most prominent researchers in the area.

The Student Session:

Within this context, the Student Session is an excellent training for students in different respects. The students have the opportunity to prepare their own submission and experience the entire cycle of the selection process, as well as receive feedback from both fellow students and leading experts in the corresponding field.

All submissions will be peer-reviewed and accepted paper submissions will be assigned a 15-20 minute slot for presentation. The extent to which the audience has understood the details should be the criterion by which the presentations are judged.

Moreover, all selected submissions will be given the opportunity to be presented in form of a poster that will be displayed at EASSS'12.

Important Dates:

April 9th	Abstract Submission
April 13th	Submissions deadline
May 7th	Notification to authors
May 14th	Camera-ready version due
May 28th	Start of the Summer School

Submission Details:

- Topics should match with the scope of EASSS'12 Summer School.
- Papers should describe student's original and unpublished works.
- Submissions can be up to 8 pages long (AAMAS formatting guidelines) and must be submitted using the easychair website <https://www.easychair.org/conferences/?conf=sseasss12>.
- Submissions should clearly state the posed question or the proposed approach, as well as outline the problem at hand.

Programme Committee Chairs:

Tina Balke, University of Surrey
Tingting Li, University of Bath

For more information about the Student Session, and for the technical details concerning submission, please visit our website: <http://easss2012.webs.upv.es>.