

The UK will remain squeezed for at least ten years, while economic inequalities continue to grow. We need learn to live together in Squeezed Britain and this conference asks how.

CAPITALISM IS CRISIS

Cumberland
Lodge

Living in Squeezed Britain

Attitudes to Wealth and Economic Inequality in a New Age of Austerity

A Cumberland Lodge Residential Conference, 13th - 15th June 2012

www.cumberlandlodge.ac.uk/squeezed_britain

WEDNESDAY 13 JUNE

THE CONTEXT

17.15 Arrival, tea in the bar

17.45 Welcome from Dr Alastair Niven,
Principal of Cumberland Lodge

18.00 Wealth, Income and Inequality:
the Global and Historical Context

Sir John Gieve, Chairman of VocaLink

John Hills, Professor of Social Policy, LSE

Matthew Whittaker, Resolution Foundation

19.30 Reception in the Drawing Room

20.00 Dinner

Draft programme at 1 May 2012

Further speakers to be confirmed

THURSDAY 14 JUNE

ATTITUDES TO ECONOMIC INEQUALITY

9.15 Attitudes to the State and Dealing with Inequality

Paul Johnson, Director, IFS

Prof Peter Taylor-Gooby, University of Kent

Elizabeth Clery, British Social Attitudes

11.00 Coffee

11.30 Attitudes to Consumption & Well-being

Professor Gordon Brown, University of Warwick

12.45 Lunch

14.30 Economic Inequality and Social Resentment

Naomi Eisenstadt, University of Oxford

Professor John Holmwood, University of Nottingham

16.00 Tea Break

16.30 Economic Inequality and Social Cohesion

Omar Khan, Head of Policy, Runnymede Trust

18.30 Bar followed by 19.00 Dinner

20.30 Greed and Fear

Martin Vander Weyer, Business Editor, The Spectator

FRIDAY 15 JUNE

ATTITUDES TO GIVING AND MAKING MONEY

9.00 Changing Attitudes to Giving Money

John Bird, Co-Founder, The Big Issue

Karl Wilding, Head of Policy, NCVO

10.30 Coffee

11.00 Changing Attitudes towards Making
Money

Reverend Canon Edmund Newell

Sub-Dean, Christ Church, Oxford

13:00 Lunch followed by departure

REGISTRATION

Prices inclusive of food and accommodation

Standard Rate £190

Student Rate (shared accommodation) £85

Non-Residential £90

Register online and more information at www.cumberlandlodge.ac.uk/squeezed_britain