

Protest Photography Competition

Are you a young photographer in Greater Manchester?
Do you work in analogue (that's film not digital!)?
Are you inspired by protest in all its forms - large or small, peaceful or confrontational, creative or absurd?

Enter our Protest Photography Competition!
Win prizes kindly donated by Lomography Manchester and the chance to have your work displayed in the museum.

The People's History Museum charts the history of protest in the UK over the past two centuries. We invite you to become part of this story by submitting your own protest photography.

Lomography Manchester will be running a series of workshops to coincide with the competition allowing people to get a better insight into their cameras in April and May 2012.

The winners will be announced on Friday 18 May at our special Museums at Night Protest Photography Evening.

For details on how to enter the competition visit our website or scan the QR code.

The closing date is Thursday 10 May at 5.00pm.

Good luck!

Protest Photography Evening

Come along to our special Protest Photography Evening to celebrate Museums at Night 2012.

Oct-4 "1909

Delve into our archive and see some of our 70,000 photographs documenting the history of working people and the labour movement.

Be inspired by an exciting demonstration from Lomography Manchester and learn all about the art of analogue photography - that's film, not digital.

Celebrate the work of young photographers in Greater Manchester as we announce the winner of our Protest Photography Competition and admire the work of the talent of the future.

With special guest Charlie Meecham. Check our website for details.

Friday 18 May 2012
