

2012 Health Educator's Network Post Graduate Educational Bursary

£1,000

The Health Educator's Network (HEN) is a Social Enterprise organisation providing learning and development for the Health, Social care and Education sectors.

As a Social Enterprise, we are not driven by the need to maximise profit for shareholders and owners, but have a responsibility to develop and integrate social objectives into the day to day running of the organisation. We reinvest much of the surplus back into the community to help achieve these objectives and change people's lives for the better.

In 2012 we are making two Post graduate bursaries each of £1,000 available to support the contribution to health within two key priority areas:

i) Public Health Capacity: to support research and practice addressing policy, leadership development and delivery of Public Health to meet the needs of the local community.

ii) Workplace Health Capacity: supporting professional development to create a cadre of excellent workplace health leaders of the future and foster excellence and capacity-building in advancing workplace health

Application forms are available on the HEN website: <http://www.healtheducatorsnetwork.org/>

The closing date for proposals is 15.6.12

Please note: the Health Educator's Network does not accept unsolicited applications for bursaries
