

Young Archaeologists' Club©

The only UK-wide Club for young people interested in archaeology!

Be Part of the YAC Pass!

The YAC Pass is our members' Passport to the Past. It includes over 180 independent museums, as well as national heritage bodies, and key partner companies.

Each participating organisation provides YAC members with a special incentive on production of their YAC membership card. These include free or reduced entry, free gifts, and discounts in site shops (see sample entry, right).

Become part of the YAC Pass and enjoy the following:

- ✓ Free quarter-page advert in the YAC Pass booklet
- ✓ Direct advertising to our YAC members and their families nationwide
- ✓ Potential for extra revenue generated by your association with the YAC Pass. For example, additional visits and increased purchases in shops
- ✓ Association with YAC and its parent body, the Council for British Archaeology
- ✓ Regular features on participating organisations in the Young Archaeologist magazine
- ✓ Full directory of participating organisations on the YAC website

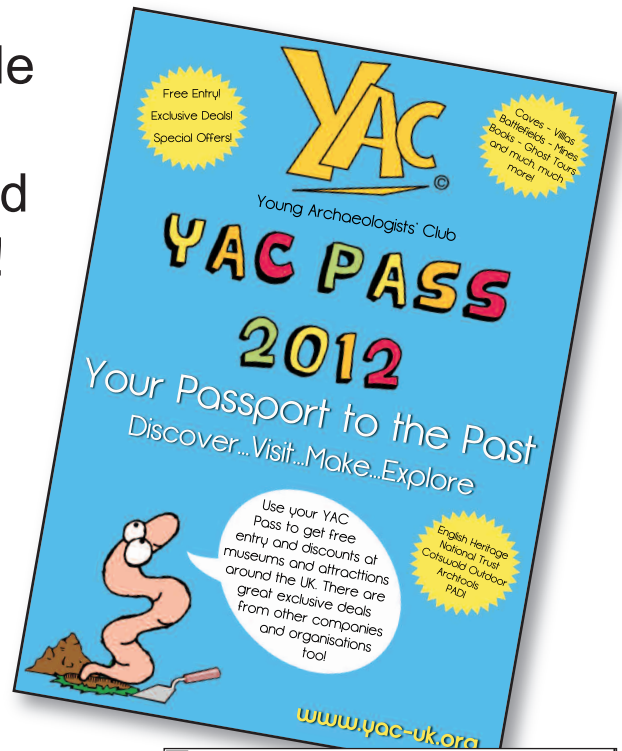

For more information and details, please contact:

Nicky Milsted, YAC Communications Officer
nickymilsted@archaeologyuk.org
01904 521236

YAC encourages young people to look after and protect our archaeology. I am proud to be YAC's President!

Tony Robinson
Time Team

11. Totnes Elizabethan House Museum

Address: 70 Fore Street
Totnes
Devon TQ9 5RU

Tel: 01803 863821
Email: info@totnesmuseum.co.uk
Web: www.devonmuseums.net

Free entry if accompanied by paying adult.

Open: 10.30–5 Mon–Fri, mid March–last full week in October
(Last entry at 4.30pm)

Elizabethan house (built 1575) displaying many original features. Collections include a Tudor kitchen and forehall, Victorian nursery and shop, local displays, garden, and courtyard. Room dedicated to Charles Babbage, computer inventor.

Sample from 2012 YAC Pass booklet

Partners include:

PETER SOMMER TRAVELS

Archtools.co.uk

THE BRITISH MUSEUM PRESS