

This one-day AQMeN conference forms part of the ESRC Festival of Social Science 2012 and is sponsored by Paul Grice, Clerk and Chief Executive of the Scottish Parliament. It aims to highlight the history and achievements of the Scottish Social Surveys and celebrate the contribution these important resources have made to understanding the Nation's past, present and democratic future.

Individual sessions will focus on political change and national identity, the lives of Scotland's young people, and the health and well-being of the Scottish public. A range of influential speakers will demonstrate the impact of these major surveys to both academic knowledge and policy development.

Places are limited and registration is essential. Please register at:
