

The complete study guide for 2013

Pass the new Life in the UK test

Celine Castelino
edited by Chris Taylor

Need to pass the new Life in the United Kingdom citizenship test but don't know where to start or how to study? Look no further – this is a complete, fully updated, step-by-step study guide to support you all the way to passing first time. Designed for adults studying on their own, especially those who do not have English as a first language, or for teachers to use as a textbook for a course on citizenship, this book is for people preparing for the test they have to take for naturalisation or settlement from 2013. This guide contains:

- official study material with additional information on important topics;
- illustrations, tasks and activities to help you learn and remember facts and figures;
- timelines to help you remember dates;
- advice and tips on study skills and how to prepare for your test;
- a glossary to aid understanding of difficult words and phrases;
- a section on the test – covering the types of questions and other information you need to feel more confident;
- self-assessment exercises and practice tests with answers to help you check your progress;
- further sources of useful information on all the main topics in the new handbook.

Having to pass a test to stay in the United Kingdom may feel daunting but this guide is packed with practical advice, information and activities to make the process easier, perhaps even enjoyable.

About the author and editor

Celine Castelino is an educational consultant specialising in ESOL. She has worked on many national initiatives, including the core curricula, the ESOL Strategy for Wales, provision for refugees/asylum seekers and ESOL for citizenship. The only former member of the Advisory Board for Naturalisation and Integration (ABNI) to write a Life in the UK Test study guide, she chaired its sub-group in Wales and sat on editorial boards for the Life in the UK handbook (2007) and the Life in the UK test questions.

Chris Taylor leads for NIACE on English for Speakers of Other Languages. With colleagues from the London Language and Literacy Unit and NIACE, she developed the Citizenship Materials for ESOL Learners, commissioned by the Home Office and Department for Business Innovation and Skills.
