

The Far-Right in Liverpool: Anti-Irish Racism

Historically, the Irish faced significant racism in England. Many commentators have suggested that today, Muslims have taken the place of the Irish as the minority targeted by the Far-Right. But is anti-Irish racism a thing of the past?". What are the experiences of Irish people living in Liverpool today, a city known for its significant Irish population? What are the commonalities and differences between anti-Irish racism and Islamophobia?

Neil Doolin will talk about a new report released by Cairde na hÉireann (Liverpool Friends of Ireland) entitled: 'Under Pressure: A Report into Far-Right and Loyalist Attacks against Irish Community Parades/Marches in Liverpool During 2012'

Dr Leon Moosavi, Lecturer in Sociology at the University of Liverpool who specialises in the Far Right and Islamophobia, will also respond to the report.

Wednesday 8th May 5.00-7.00pm

Eleanor Rathbone Building,
Hearnshaw Lecture Theatre
University of Liverpool

To register please visit -

<http://www.uolevents.org/080513>