

Post: PostDoc position in Work, Organisational and Economic Psychology
Location: University of Vienna, Austria
Deadline: 1st June, 2013

At the University of Vienna, Department of Applied Psychology: Work, Education, Economy a vacancy will be filled with a post-doc researcher full time (100%). Starting date will be September, 2013 or as soon as possible; the position is limited for 2.5 years.

You will be part of the team of work, organisational and economic psychology which consists of 15 research and teaching staff members and 1 administrative staff member (see: <http://aow-psy.univie.ac.at/en/home/>). We are searching for a collaborator in our research field of tax behaviour.

Tasks:

- Self-reliant work in the FWF research project „The impact of power of authorities on trust in authorities and consequences on tax cooperation: An extension and empirical test of the slippery slope framework” (<https://poweroftaxes.univie.ac.at>) among other things moderation and analysis of focus groups, development of questionnaires, planning and conduction of laboratory experiments
- (International) publications and presentations at scientific conferences regarding the project
- Organisation regarding the project
- Collaboration in research evaluations of the department

Requirements:

- Doctorate or PhD in psychology or other social sciences
- Excellent knowledge of methodology, statistics and qualitative data analysis
- Experience in scientific publication and presentation of research
- Command of written and spoken German and English
- Good knowledge of office, statistical software (MS Office, SPSS) and software for the analysis of qualitative data

Additional skills:

- Research competencies in economic psychology
- Social skills and willingness to collaborate with the team of work, organisational and economic psychologists
- Knowledge of academic processes and structures
- Engagement
- Proactive
- Willingness to further education

Setting:

Applications by women are particularly welcome. Women with equal qualification, competence and professional achievements to other applicants will be treated preferentially as long as no other applicants offer meaningful reasons that take precedence.

Applications should be submitted electronically via <http://jobcenter.univie.ac.at/en/applications/> (please add application number: 3943) not later than 01.06.2013.

Please submit

- A letter of intent
- A description of your scientific career (CV)
- Publication list, select two important publications
- Names and email addresses of recommenders or letters of reference.

If you have any queries, please contact Eva Hofmann (eva.hofmann@univie.ac.at), project leader