

'Our Criminal Past': Caring for the Future

Arts & Humanities
Research Council

'Our Criminal Past': Educating Historians of Crime: Classroom, Archive, Community

FRIDAY 6TH SEPTEMBER 2013

10.00am - 4.00pm

BROADCASTING PLACE, LEEDS METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY, WOODHOUSE LANE, LEEDS, LS2 9EN

Second Network Seminar

Tyne & Wear Archives & Museums

This one-day AHRC funded event is part of the 'Our Criminal Past' Research Network. This network will explore and reflect on the development and future presentation, preservation and dissemination of historical criminal lives and practices. This event will explore approaches to the teaching of crime history (including digital and media sources); enabling student engagement with crime history; education in the archive and museum and the teaching of future historians of crime.

Network organisers: Dr Heather Shore, Leeds Metropolitan University, (H.Shore@leedsmet.ac.uk) or Dr Helen Johnston, University of Hull, (H.Johnston@hull.ac.uk). To register contact: Dr. Heather Shore. This event is FREE and lunch/refreshments will be provided. Web: <http://www.ourcriminalpast.co.uk/> Twitter: @ourcriminalpast

Arts & Humanities
Research Council

 UNIVERSITY OF Hull