NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL CRIME CONFERENCE 2013

Wednesday 27th November
09.00 – 17.00

30 EUSTON SQUARE, LONDON, NW1 2FB

NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL CRIME CONFERENCE 2013

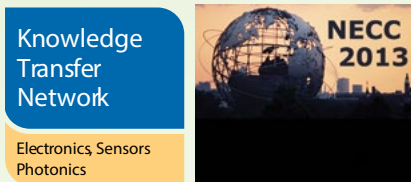

Environmental crime and eco-security matter—and are increasingly on the agendas of national and local government departments. Existing and new threats are a growing problem that are having a direct impact on the global environment and human wellbeing.

This fourth UK National Environmental Crime Conference is an international platform bringing together industry and academic expertise with practitioners and policy-makers to discuss a range of current and future problems such as wildlife crime, industrial pollution and illegal waste disposal.

On the day you can look forward to:

- panel discussion
- academic posters
- charity fundraising event
- live demonstrations of technologies that could be used to detect and prevent environmental crime.

The conference is organised by University College London's Jill Dando Institute of Security and Crime Science in partnership with the Electronics, Sensors, Photonics Knowledge Transfer Network (ESP-KTN).
