

Graduate Teaching Assistantships and Graduate Research Assistantships September 2014

Following similar competitions during previous academic sessions, the School of Management is delighted to be able to offer five new PhD Graduate Teaching Assistantships (GTAs) and two new PhD Graduate Research Assistantships (GRAs). The closing date is 6th March 2014. All short-listed GTAs/GRAs applicants will be interviewed for suitability. We expect to interview for these awards in April 2014. Please see document entitled 'Further Guidance' for detailed information about the GTAs and GRAs duties, the application procedure and the process we will use to allocate them.

The School of Management at the University of Leicester is renowned for the quality of its creative, interdisciplinary and heterodox research. We welcome applications from those interested in the critical and innovative rethinking of any of the following fields: employment and global work; finance and accounting; industrial relations and trade unionism; labour markets and the labour process; management and business; management of science, technology and information; marketing and consumption; organizations and organising; training and development. Our PhD programme is distinctive because it is firmly located within a broadly defined critical social science tradition. Our students draw on any of the different fields of management as well as on anthropology, cultural studies, economics, geography, physics and mathematics, science and technology studies, sociology, politics, philosophy and psychology amongst other disciplines in undertaking their research.

Each GTAs/GRAs is worth approximately £18,376 per year over four years. These GTAs/GRAs are for full-time study only and will commence in September 2014. They will cover tuition fees at the UK/EU rate (currently £3,900) and include a stipend of £9,650 each year as well as a salary of £4,076. The successful applicants are, further, entitled to a Research Training Support Grant of £750 per annum to finance their research activities as appropriate. Suitable applications are encouraged from both UK/EU students and from international students (outside the EU). However, please note that the award covers the UK/EU tuition fee rate only: an international student would need to pay the difference between this and the international tuition fee rate themselves.

How to Apply for a September 2013 GTAs/GRAs

All applicants for the GTAs must submit (1) a completed postgraduate application form, (2) a 750 word personal statement, (3) a CV, (4) a PhD research proposal of no more than 4000 words, (5) two references (preferably from academic institutions), (6) copies of your degree transcripts and certificates, and (7) proof of English language capabilities where required. It is essential that you read the 'Further Guidance' on the GTAs/GRAs award when preparing your application. It is available here:
