

INSTITUTE OF CHILD HEALTH

Great Ormond Street
Hospital for Children

NHS Foundation Trust

4th UK Paediatric Neuropsychology Symposium: Atypical Developmental Pathways

The 4th UK Paediatric Neuropsychology Symposium will take place at the UCL Institute of Child Health, London between 19-23 May 2014. This symposium will focus on children's learning and behaviour in a range of conditions including: autism, ADHD, cerebral palsy, dyslexia, dyscalculia, dyspraxia, poor nutrition, epilepsy, stressful environments, traumatic brain injury, specific language impairment and memory difficulties.

As well as standard registration to attend in person it is also possible to register for ON-LINE ONLY access to the conference. Lectures will be filmed and broadcast on the secure conference website remaining accessible until 30th September 2014.

Confirmed speakers:

- Vicki Anderson, University of Melbourne, Australia
- Gillian Baird, Guys & St Thomas' Hospitals
- Gus Baker, University of Liverpool, UK
- Torsten Baldeweg, UCL, UK
- Lucia Braga, SARAH Network, Brazil
- Brian Butterworth, UCL, UK
- Dido Green, Oxford Brookes University, UK
- Megan Gunnar, University of Minnesota, USA
- Francesca Happé, King's College London, UK
- Elizabeth Isaacs, UCL, UK
- Mark Johnson, Birkbeck, University of London, UK
- Bryan Kolb, University of Lethbridge, Canada
- Val Muter, UCL, UK
- John Oates, Open University, UK
- Helen Tager-Flusberg, Boston University, USA
- Faraneh Vargha-Khadem, UCL, UK
- Huw Williams, University of Exeter, UK

Programme Directors:

Peter Rankin and Michelle de Haan

For further details visit www.ucl.ac.uk/neuropsych or contact the ICH Events Office, telephone: +44 (0)20 7905 2675 or +44 (0)20 7905 2699, email info@ichevents.com

www.ucl.ac.uk/neuropsych

