

Buildings in Society International

Buildings and Society in an Historical Perspective AD 500-
1914: Contributions from Archaeology, History and Architecture

19th to 21st June 2014

BISI

Buildings in Society International

bisi@qub.ac.uk

Programme

Thursday 19th June 2014, Elmwood Building, School of GAP

18:00 Registration

18:45 Words of Welcome

Key Note Address

19:00: What Can Buildings Do?

William Whyte (University of Oxford)

20:00 Wine Reception

Friday 20th June 2014, Riddel Hall

09.00 Registration

Arrival tea and coffee

Session 1: Biographies of Buildings

09.30 From Tudors to Tenements: The Conversion of Manor Houses into working-class dwellings in nineteenth-century Britain

Vicky Crewe (University of Sheffield)

09.55 The Long View: Building Biographies and Antiquarian Accounts

Kate Giles (University of York)

10.20 Building Biography as a method of reconsidering early-modern housing culture

Göran Tagesson (National Heritage Board, Linköping, Sweden) and Andrine Nilsen (University of Gothenburg)

10.45 Discussion

11.00 Coffee Break

Session 2: Identity, Family & Domestic Space

11.30 Re-organisation of household space in the Viking Age-Medieval period transition in Norway

Marianne Hem Eriksen (University of Oslo)

11.55 Debating architectural life histories at an ancestral Pueblo: The case of Hummingbird Pueblo, New Mexico
Evangelia Tsesmeli (South Methodist University)

12.20 Windows and light in medieval buildings on Gotland, Sweden
Linda Qviström (Stockholm University)

12.45 Discussion

13.00 Lunch

14.00 Fieldtrip to Cultra, Ulster Folk Museum

18.00 Dinner at Riddel Hall

Session 3: Power and Display

19.00 'Sorely against the will of the people': Tenant resistance to housing reform in nineteenth-century Lewis
Catriona Mackie (University of Liverpool)

19.25 The Tudor biography of Carew Castle, Pembrokeshire: A changing meaning from Henry VII to Elizabeth I
Audrey Thorstad (University of Leeds)

19.50 Buildings in their landscapes: A case study of the importance of landscape context
Susan Oosthuizen (University of Cambridge)

20.15 Discussion

20.30 Close of Day 1

Saturday 21st June 2014, Riddel Hall

09.00 Arrival tea and coffee

Session 4: Institutional Space

09.30 A legacy too difficult to remember?: Post-closure graffiti and the changing meaning of Kilmainham Gaol
Laura McAttackney (University College Dublin)

09.55 Space and Place: Unexpected lessons from National school buildings in the north of Ireland
Eileen Murphy, Lyn McKerr & Barbara Graham (Queen's University Belfast)

10.20 Old prisons as symbols of power – an analysis of interaction between spatial layout, material structure and social relations
Grete Swensen (Norwegian Institute for Cultural Heritage Research)

10.45 Discussion

11.00 Coffee Break

Session 5: Interpretation and Theory

11.30 The experience of architecture in a medieval Italian village: Villamagna
Caroline Goodson (Birbeck, University of London)

11.55 The domestic dwelling from the dwelling theory
Rafael E. J. Iglesia (Buenos Aires University)

12.20 The 'traditional Irish cottage': A colonial genesis?
Eve Campbell (Independent Archaeologist)

12.45 Discussion

13.00 Lunch

Session 6: Methodology

14.00 Explaining buildings – who is qualified to unravel their secrets?
Oliver Jessop (The JESSOP Consultancy)

14.25 Reactions to the Gothic revival at Strawberry Hill
Nicholas Smith (Strawberry Hill, London)

14.50 People and Buildings in South Oxfordshire, 1200-1650: Some new approaches
Stephen Miles and Stuart Brookes (University of Oxford)

15.15 Discussion

15.30 Coffee break

Session 7: Ritual and Place

16.00 Expressions of meaning and belief in the domestic buildings of the Southern Fen, circa 1500 to 1700 AD
Jonathan Duck (University of Leicester)

16.25 Store Heddinge: A strange church with many interpretations
Leif Plith Lauritsen (Museum of Lolland-Falster)

16.50 The stube, the stove and the saints – traces of confessionalization in the living
Rainer Atzbach (Aarhus University)

17.15 Discussion

17.30 Conference discussion and close

18.00 Conference dinner at Riddel Hall