

What's Happening in Black British History? A Conversation Workshop

Come join the conversation at an all-day workshop on Thursday 30th October at Senate House

With a great line-up of speakers, all actively involved in researching and communicating the history of peoples of African origin and descent in Britain, this event will showcase new directions in research, exciting developments in the archives, and innovative approaches to spreading the word!

For a full programme, and details of how to register please visit

the Institute of Commonwealth Studies Events page.

<http://commonwealth.sas.ac.uk/events>

