

Keith Bottomley Annual lecture
Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice

“It is said that no one truly knows a nation until one has been inside its jails.
A nation should not be judged by how it treats its highest citizens, but its lowest ones.”
Nelson Mandela.

What does the state of our prisons today tell us about our nation?

Nick Hardwick
Her Majesty's Chief Inspector for Prisons,
Alumnus of the University of Hull

Tuesday 21 April 2015
5.30 pm

Conference Room 1 | Staff House | Hull campus | Cottingham Road | Hull HU6 7RX

Followed by Wine Reception | All Welcome