

GESIS – Leibniz-Institute for the Social Sciences is an internationally active social science institute belonging to the Leibniz Association. It is funded by the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) and the Federal States.

We are seeking for our location in Cologne to begin as soon as possible

Postdoc (f/m)

(salary group 13 TV-L, full time, the contract will first be limited to three years.)

for the European Data Laboratory for Comparative Social Research (EUROLAB).

Areas of responsibility include:

- practical and research support to visiting researchers
- own scientific research, publishing activities and representing the EUROLAB at relevant conferences.

As the ideal candidate for this position you:

- have completed your PhD in political science or another Social Science discipline
- have a good understanding of social science methods and survey analysis
- have demonstrated experience in developing grant applications.
- have experience in international cooperation
- are a good communicator, team player,
- have a sound command of both written and spoken English and German.

GESIS guarantees that guidelines regarding employment laws for the disabled and handicapped as well as laws and regulations governing part-time employment will be observed. GESIS is an equal opportunity employer and is certified by the European work & family audit.

For further information concerning your job description please contact Prof. Dr. Ingvill C. Mochmann, via email.

We only process online applications. Please apply here until May 15 2015.

The key number is: DAS-25

