The Institute for Digital Archaeology calls for papers that explore and promote the use of digital techniques in archaeological and classical research.

It is the aim of the Digital Imaging in Archaeology conference to highlight the potential of multiple forms of analysis, including RTI/PTM, CT scanning, and advances in maritime techniques and their use in cultural heritage conservation and archaeological discovery.

Please contact the institute if you wish to present a paper on the above or any other digital innovation in archaeology. Include in your email a title and abstract. We encourage submissions from scholars at all career stages.
