

Becoming A Midwife in 21st Century: Student Conference

The University of Hertfordshire is excited to present its first student midwife conference. An exciting and informal event which aims to offer support, inspiration and guidance to student and preceptor midwives as they make the transition to becoming autonomous practitioners. We hope to reinforce strategies for advocacy, to help both midwives and students develop and maintain personal resilience and for effective practice in contemporary midwifery.

We have an inspirational line up of speakers and the day will culminate in a lively debate, chaired by Milli Hill and featuring Lesley Page regarding current midwifery education.

We are also excited to host a number of stands from various midwifery organisations including Birth Companions, Iolanthe Midwifery Trust, Association of Radical Midwives, Infant Sleep Information Source and Precious Cargo.

There will also be a poster display of current research projects.

Lunch and refreshments are provided.

Although the conference is primarily aimed at student midwives, midwives and other healthcare professionals with an interest in this field are also more than welcome!
