

The University of Dundee is proud to host the International Society of Addiction Medicine

Public Debate:

SHOULD DRUGS BE LEGALISED IN SCOTLAND?

Saturday 3rd October, 5pm – 6:30pm
Dalhousie Building, University of Dundee

This event is open to all and free tickets are available from Eventbrite: www.uod.ac.uk/1JqXyvV

Four leading Scottish experts will participate in the debate for and against the legalisation of drugs in Scotland. Speakers who will argue in favour of legalisation will be retired Police Inspector Mr Jim Duffy and Dr Brian Kidd, Consultant Addiction Psychiatrist (NHS Tayside) and Senior Lecturer (University of Dundee). The speakers who will argue against legalisation will be Professor Neil McKeganey, Director of the Centre for Drug Misuse Research and Dr Rowdy Yates, Senior Research Fellow and Facilitator of the Scottish Addiction Studies Group, University of Stirling.

This event will be chaired by David Clegg, Political Editor of the Daily Record. Over the past few years, David has established himself as one of the best known political reporters in Scotland. His expert opinion on Scottish and UK politics is regularly sought on a wide variety of matters and he has appeared on Newsnight, Sky News and other global media outlets.

Refreshments follow.

Please note overflow theatres may be in operation