

London AKI: Sharing innovation and best practice

Creating a London-wide AKI pathway

Date / time

Tuesday, 17 November

08:30 - 19:30

08:30 - Registration

09:00 - Programme begins

(Lunch and networking included)

Venue

Wellcome Trust

183 Euston Road

London NW1 2BE

The London AKI Network and the London Renal Strategic Clinical Network (SCN) invite you to a free, one-day event on Tuesday, 17 November to increase share London innovation and best practice in acute kidney injury (AKI) prevention and management.

Included in the session are updates on the broad strategic work of the London AKI Network, the wider renal and healthcare environment, and the launch of key updates and new network products.

This event should interest all those involved in AKI care in the capital and beyond.

Registration is free and delegates will not only receive a comprehensive delegate pack but a special free gift.

Keynote speakers

Hear from these respected speakers -- and many more!

- ◇ Dr Andy Mitchell, London Medical Director, NHS England
- ◇ Dr Richard Fluck, National Clinical Director for Renal, NHS England
- ◇ Professor Martin Marshall, Lead for Improvement Science London and Professor of Healthcare improvement, University College London
- ◇ Dr Neil Ashman, Clinical Director, London Renal Strategic Clinical Network
- ◇ Dr Chris Laing, Chair, London AKI Network

A full agenda is available via the online registration link below or <http://bit.ly/aki-171115>

Register online:

<http://londonaki.eventbrite.co.uk>

Enquiries

Enquiries may be directed to the London Renal Strategic Clinical Network:
katy.gordon1@nhs.net.