

Royal Anthropological Institute

RESEARCH IN PROGRESS SEMINAR SERIES

AUTUMN TERM 2015

50 Fitzroy Street, W1T 5BT

"Research in Progress" is a special seminar series of presentations by anthropology PhD candidates, Post-Docs and Early Career Researchers. Its aim is to share work, get feedback in a supportive environment, and build new networks that cut across universities, sub-disciplines and hierarchies. Seminars are chaired by peers on a rotational basis and take the form of the presentation of a piece of written work followed by lots of discussion and refreshments. Seminars are free and everyone is welcome, but booking advised (eventbrite or <https://www.therai.org.uk/events-calendar>)

Friday 2nd October 2015, 4.30pm

Half an Hour in Belfast: theatricality (and a haircut) in the ethnographic present

Karen Lane, St Andrews University

Booking: <https://karenlane.eventbrite.co.uk>

Friday 23rd October 2015, 4.30pm

Lampedusa caught between shipwreck and tourism

Dr. Anna Arnone, SOAS Research Associate

Booking: <http://annaarnone.eventbrite.co.uk>

Friday 6th November 2015, 4.30pm

'We were ready to leave': Imagination, Migration & Cosmopolitanism between Uttar Pradesh (India) & the Gulf

Tom Chambers, Sussex University

Booking: <http://tomchambers.eventbrite.co.uk>

Friday 20th November 2015, 4.30pm

Catalan young migrants in London

Clara Rubico, Universitat de Lleida

Booking: <http://clararubico.eventbrite.co.uk>

Friday 11th December 2015. 4.30 pm

A Feeling for Water: Rethinking the role of affective geographies in lessening the emotional burden of research participation.

Dr Natalie Djohari, Visiting Research Fellow, Goldsmiths, University of London.

Booking: <http://nataliedjohari.eventbrite.co.uk>

Interested in giving a paper?

Student fellows and early career anthropology fellows from all sub-disciplines are encouraged to present their work and currently dates for the 2016 summer/autumn terms are available. Contact gaellah@therai.org.uk with a title and short abstract. Information about joining the RAI as a Student Fellow or Ordinary Fellow here: <https://www.therai.org.uk/joining> Sign up to the Research in Progress mailing list: <http://eepurl.com/bzY4yT>