

DIVISION OF PSYCHIATRY

Medical Anthropology and Psychiatry

Cultural challenges in clinical practice

What social and cultural challenges do mental health professionals face in their clinics?

19 and 20 December 2015, 10 am - 5 pm
PGIMER - Dr RML Hospital, New Delhi

Course Directors: Dr Sushrut Jadhav, UCL & Dr Smita Deshpande, RMLH

This short course, the first of RMLH-UCL annual short course collaborative series, will aim to provide inter-disciplinary theoretical knowledge and clinical application of principles in cultural psychiatry and medical anthropology.

The course will investigate identified cultural challenges in clinical mental health practice with a focus on the interface between natural, supernatural, modern and traditional forces, in the context of local suffering within the Indian landscape.

Target audience: Trainees and practitioners working in clinical practice e.g. Mental Health Trainees from Psychiatry, Social Work, Psychology, Occupational Therapy, & Social Sciences.

Course Teachers for 2015: Dr Smita Deshpande, Dr Sushrut Jadhav, Dr David Goldberg, Dr Nandu Kannuri & Prof. Roland Littlewood

Teaching faculty: Dr Smita Deshpande, Dr Sushrut Jadhav, Dr Jane Derges, Dr David Goldberg, Dr Sumeet Jain, Dr Nandu Kannuri, & Prof. Roland Littlewood.

Fees: Free . Optional Rs 1000.00 for meals and refreshments

Deadline for application: 1st December 2015

For registration, contact:

Sreelatha Narayanan

Room No. 30, Dept. of Psychiatry, PGIMER-Dr. RML Hospital, Park Street New Delhi 110001.

Email: deshpande.jadhav@gmail.com

Phone (working hours only): 011 2340 4363